THE PHOTOGRAPHER

HI, I AM LAKENDRA

I am LaKendra Baker, an Atlanta-based photographer dedicated to the art of the testament. My background is rooted in helping others voice their past and present experiences; now, I use my camera to give those experiences a visual home.

Whether I am capturing a high-energy event or a quiet, intimate portrait, my goal is to document your journey with profound clarity. I don't just take pictures; I capture the vibrant energy of life as it happens. I'm here to help you see your story through a new lens—one that aligns with your true purpose and the person God created you to be.

For 20 years, I have served as a guide for those navigating the complex narratives of their lives, helping them give voice to their past and present experiences. Today, I have traded the spoken word for a visual one, using my camera to document those same journeys with profound clarity.

A fairytale

Love is the greatest artist, and a wedding day is its canvas. This chapter captures the light, the laughter, and the quiet magic of two paths becoming one. Each photograph is a return ticket to a moment otherwise gone, a visual testament to a day when time stood still and forever began.

Graduation Photos

New Chapter

Graduation is more than a milestone; it is the culmination of late nights, shared laughter, and personal growth. Like photography itself, this moment is about light, perspective, and timing. These photographs do not just document a ceremony—they freeze the raw pride, the fleeting smiles, and the exact instant a chapter closed so we can revisit it forever.

Prom Photos

Prom Night

Prom is more than just a night of glitz and glamour; it's a beautifully fleeting milestone. Through the lens, we didn't just capture the elegant dresses, the sharp tuxedos, and the perfect lighting—we froze a moment of pure anticipation, laughter, and the brilliant spark of youth.

Connection

They say a camera catches a moment, but looking at these pages, it catches so much more. It holds the laughter we shared, the places we've been, and the quiet, everyday moments that weave us together. This is a visual diary of our history, our growth, and the love that anchors us. Welcome to our story.

Fun Socials

An event is more than just a date on a calendar; it's a living story. Through these photographs, we look past the surface to capture the true essence of our time together—the vibrant connections, the shared vision, and the memories that continue to inspire us.
